

MOONS...

Many moons ago...
...a teenager assumed the fetus position and sobbed
So much tears that death followed closely
And because death arrived at a sad time
The sound of crying can still be heard when one enters this location
A zone of hauntedness'

Many moons ago...
...this location, were death resides, remains questionable...
...considered a haunted hot spot
But the full tale has never been told...
...according to some...
...a jealous youth was charged with murder
The story indicated that at the time of arrest
Youth excitedly shouted: "My heart was broken; things were not to end this way"

Many moons ago...
...a teenager looking frail and lost
Cried to death in this room
It was the first murder in this fashion
From any direction within eye sight
No such event has ever occurred...
...teenager murdering teenager!
No one could imagine such killings in these parts
First youth killing centered on a very unusual spin-off
Tears, the ironic twist of second crying to death
At that time, because they were all so young
There were bans on publication of names to the public domain

Many moons ago...
...a young killer escapes lock-up
Returning to this scene of the crime
With knife in hand – different, but identical
As the wrist factor was removed through the spilling of blood
Where a suicide was conceived and carried out
This room has remained locked for a decade since those tragedies
As other teenagers' break-ins occurred – out of curiosity...
...more episodes stating: "This location had some ghostly guests"

Many moons ago...
...police plead for all to keep away
But, teenagers often never listen
As the township evokes measures
To sentence anyone caught here
Since the families of the deceased teenagers
Refuse several offerings to tare down this site
All around the location there are signage...warnings:...
'...this location is a haunted hot spot!'
But this has just created more interest in visitations!

Many moons ago...
...the families of the victims
Established this location as memorial
So here we stand...
...50 years later...
...fetching presence, sensing activities...
...of the happenings from many moons ago!
